SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1878

RENO'S EXISTENCE THREATENED.

Attention is called in the local columns of the GAZETTE to-day to the alarming fact that our town is without any adequate protection against destruction by fire. The water pipes of the company which pretends to supply the town are empty for the reason that the little ditch from which the water is taken is frozen solid. The company's reservoir, an unfenced hole in the ground in which cattle and boys cool themselves in the hot weather, has been empty for months. The water system of Reno would be disgraceful to a village of 500 inhabitants. At all times it is an annoyance and now it has involved the town in a peril, real and imminent. Only the most watchful care on the part of the people can avert the danger. A fire once begun would in all likelihood sweep the town out of existence. Another year will probably find Reno in the possession of water works up to the needs of the place. We have too long suffered the nuisance of the dribbling rain pipes which have made a burlesque of supplying us with water. Reno needs good pipes filled all the year round with clear water under a high pressure. Heretofore we have not had such water. At times during the summer the liquid which flowed sluggishly from the pipes was wholly unfit for use. We are even denied that in the winter and the town is left at the mercy of any chance spark. The risk is too great to be borne, and any man or set of men who will promise to serve Reno properly with water will find the citizens ready with their help. In the meantime, watchfulness should not be relaxed for a moment. The existence of the town depends upon that.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The New York Herald is enamored of the Chinese. A telegram of yesterday states that "the Herald of to-day says: The question of Chinese labor has been successfully solved at a shoe manufactory in North Adams, Massachusetts. The experiment which began several years ago and which led to labor complications and disturbances, has succeeded beyond the hopes of the most ardent supporters. Chinese employees walk the streets with as much freedom as any citizen. Their foreman, Ah Sing, married a Virginia girl a short time ago. The workshops are filled with an equal number of American workmen and Chinese, all working for the same pay. Quite a large number of Chinese propose applying for citizenship, many of them being educated and having joined the churches." It affords us no little satisfaction to read this dispatch. As North Adams and the Herald have satisfactorily solved the Chinese problem with a few dozen Mongolians to experiment upon, we should be highly gratified to see them keep on solving with a hundred thousand or so. The Pacific coast is not half so clever as North Adams and the Herald and is as perfectly willing to make the Chinese go east as west. We give up the problem as a bad job.

The bloody shirt is not to be laid away. Whenever the North shows a disposition to put the garment out of sight the solid South bends every energy to drag it into the light again. Leading Republicans in the house, the Washington dispatches say, propose to have something to say about the manner in which the recent elections in the South were carried, and the failure of the Southern people to respond to the President's Southern policy. When the legislative appropriation bill comes up for discussion the Republicans have determined to press for liberal appropriations for the department of justice in order to enable the attorney-general to push the cases against parties who openly violate the Federal election laws. The Democrats will undoubtedly oppose the appropriation. The Republicans then intend to inaugurate political discussion, which will afford an opportunity to more fully expose the workings of a policy by which an almost solid South was created.

There may be, says the Jewish Times, among some people a feeling against the Jews, but all the weight of evidence is against any deep-root, general anti-

Jewish prejudices on the part of the difficulties in the way of the complete social emancipation of the Jews are the result of the course that the Jews themselves have pursued. Either from fear of inter-marriages with Christians or from a feeling of timidity begotten of European persecutions, or from a fear of the effect of Christian associations upon the religion of their children, the American Jews certainly have by their own acts, reared artificial barriers between themselves and Christian society, and replaced the enforced social exile that their fathers complained of, by a system of social self-exile, which is none the less burdensome because it is self-imposed.

The Tribune without malice propensities, proposes to make a few salutary remarks relative to the present incumbents of the United States Land Office, and that of the U. S. District Attorney. Their actions in political affairs; their outspoken opposition to President Hayes and other little matters. We have proof of the fact that the President reads the newspapers sent him with care, and also that he is aware of the strong stand the little Nevada Tribune has always taken in favor of his administration.—Carson Tribune.

It is to be hoped that the Deacon will have some little consideration. Hayes is in a rather dangerous frame of mind at present and we don't want an army marching out here. Perhaps, however, the President before proceeding to extremities will wait till he knows for certain that the Deacon is an American citizen. We'd all like to know that.

William Henry Maginnis Smallman, of San Francisco, has brought suit against John W. Mackey for $200,000 damages sustained in the seduction by the Comstocker of Mrs. Smallman, who is now hopelessly insane because of said seduction, an unflattering comment upon the boozing king's powers of pleasing. The San Francisco newspapers are very indignant with Mr. Smallman. It is, of course, quite impossible that a man worth so many millions as Mr. Mackey should have strayed from the path of virtue. The probabilities are that Mr. S. is trying to blackmail Mr. M.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange sends this deserved shot at the Nevada press for the disgusting obituary slobber to which it is prone:

The average citizen dies in ignorance of his good qualities. To fully discover what "a genial and whole-souled gentleman" nature has made you, it is indispensable that you should become the superintendent of a Nevada hole-in-the-ground and receive a flattering notice from the local paper for having sent the editor of that paper a quart bottle of sheep-dip.

Now for a herculean job of white-washing. Samuel J. Tilden will be one of the first witnesses called before the Potter Committee when the house instructs it to investigate the cipher telegrams.

Oh Yakob, Yakob, why have you gone back on the old man! This degenerate son of the Ameer has knuckled to the English.

Bank Messenger Robbed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The regular messenger of the Importers and Traders' bank being absent to-day, a new man was sent with the usual consignment to the clearing-house. He was accompanied by the bank detective and carried $160,000 of clearing-house certificates of legal tenders deposited with the United States treasury; $42,900 United States gold certificates; $6,865 38 currency, and $67 in gold. The messenger on arriving at the clearing-house discovered that all the money was gone and could not account for its disappearance. He then returned to the bank and payment of the clearing-house certificates was stopped at the treasury. Payment on the gold certificates could not be stopped as they are payable to bearer. The officers of the bank offer $500 reward for the return of the certificates.

A Moslem's Oath.

The Mohammedan who had his case adjourned, in order to allow him to swear in the usual Eastern custom, was accommodated to-day with the needful book by Professor Hershfelder of Toronto and Trinity universities, who produced one and swore to its being an original copy of the Koran. Jacobson, the prosecutor, then swore as follows: He took the Koran in the right hand and held it in front of him, then with the left hand pressed over his heart he bent down until his forehead touched the book, and remained in that position a moment or two, after which he said but one word, "Sworn," which completed the form.—Montreal Post.

The South Carolina Election Outrage Cases.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The trial of the Democrats indicted in South Carolina for violating the Federal election law, and for interfering with the Federal officials while in the performance of their duties, will not take place until some time in February.

A Colossal Strike Impending.

LONDON, Dec. 27th.—One hundred thousand men are involved in the impending colliery strike in York and Derbyshires.

Stock Exchange Paragraphs.

A man named Schemmhorn is a New York millionaire. What is there in a name, anyhow? There was a fire in Oakland on Christmas morning. The department was on hand and succeeded, after the usual gallant struggle, in saving the lot.

A citizen of Deadwood having died, the Times feelingly remarks: "He has gone to the abode of the blest." Poor fellow! he'll be very lonely if he has no acquaintances outside of Deadwood.

Santa Rosa is a demoralized community. Some of its inhabitants are booked for a very warm place in the land beyond. Specially those who stole the Christmas tree which was donated to the Baptist Sunday-school.

The Call tells us that the training ship "is rapidly approaching dissolution." "Approaching dissolution" is not bad, but wouldn't it be better to say "the pale horse has laid its icy hand upon the doomed vessel."

The approach of the time when the constitutional convention will have to adjourn and the $10 per diem will cease seems to be making some of the delegates desperate. Yesterday a man was robbed there in broad daylight by two men he did not know and who have not been arrested. It is quite evident that he never goes in the spectators' gallery.

At the head of the "Prattle" department of the Christmas Argonaut is a picture of two asses in friendly contact. It is not likely that this represents Mr. Pixley and Mr. Bierce, for we do not suppose that the former gentleman habitually warns his jaw by laying it across the small of Mr. Bierce's back. Besides we have no reason to believe that Mr. Bierce is a Samson and could support such a ponderous mass of bone. The picture cannot represent Mr. Bierce and Mr. Somers, for though the length of the ears may deceive a casual observer, neither of the animals is a mule. We are therefore constrained to believe that, in the work of art are depicted the mutual endearments of Mr. Bierce and some phenomenal but unknown ass who admires him.

Feminine "Things."

[From the Baltimore Gazette's Paris Letter.] I wish that some of the critics who raise a rout about the dresses that Mrs. Modjeska and Miss Ward would journey across the water to see how such things are done in artistic Paris, the home par excellence of the highest form of decorative art. They would find Croizette at the theater Francois playing in "Le Sphinx" in a seakins dress that cost $3000. And what would they say to the gowns of the accomplished Mlle. Bartet in "Montjoye"? Her first dress in particular would throw them into convulsions. It is composed of a real and very fine Indian shawl (one of those that have one plain center, but are all border; the most expensive styles by the way), cut into a polonaise, and worn over a undershirt of peacock-green satin. The sleeves and the front of the polonaise are trimmed with peacock-green velvet, exactly matching the skirt in shade. Her second dress is of white watered silk, with sleeves and paniers of white foulard, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. A scarf draper of white foulard is drawn around the lower part of the skirt, and is knotted in front in very graceful fashion. These dresses were both made by Worth.

A Cariboo Pioneer's Luck.

[Victoria Colonist.]

John Dawson, one of Cariboo's earliest and most successful miners, died some two years ago at Brooklyn, New York, but the news of his death only recently reached this city. There are some rather interesting circumstances in connection with his early life. Arriving here in the days of the gold fever, he proceeded to Cariboo and became a partner with Abbott and Jordan in the celebrated "Abbott" claim located on William creek. It was in this claim the blue clay, which previously had been looked upon as bed-rock, was sunk through. A "sump hole" was on a certain day required and the company cut through the clay. Out of that hole no less than fifty-six ounces of gold were taken. The claim paid very handsomely, and in 1863 Dawson left for the East, taking with him $60,000. At New York he invested in greenbacks at 40 cents, and then proceeding to Brooklyn, bought up real estate when the market was very low. His property rapidly increased in value, and it is reported that he died a millionaire. His wife is also dead, but two children are left behind to whom the fortune has reverted.

Another Frightful Sea Disaster.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—It is said that the West India steamer, Emily B. Souder, when two days out from New York, foundered, and her officers and all her passengers were lost.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A London cable dispatch says: The steamship Emily B. Souder, which left New York on the 8th of December for Turk's Island and Santa Domingo, foundered at sea two days out from New York. This news reached London from Kingston, Jamaica, telegraphed by Lloyd's agent, who states that two of the crew had just landed at Kingston. What became of the passengers, officers and remainder of the crew is not known, but the seamen picked up believe that all the others on board the steamer have been drowned.

The passengers were: J. A. Foscan, Mrs. W. E. Root, R. A. Friend, Mrs. J. M. Cazenau, Mrs. A. M. Storm, A. M. Ross, Ered Kellmer, Captain C. J. F. Kuehl, who commanded the steamer, is pronounced an accomplished seaman. T. M. Deaken was first officer. The crew numbered 27 men.

Extract from a romance: "With one hand he held her beautiful golden head above the chilling waves, and with the other called loudly for assistance."

Disastrous Floods—Town Destroyed and Many Lives Lost.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A report from Port au Paix, Hayti says: Many persons and houses were swept away by the river which changed its course and crossed the town. St. Louis del Norte about three miles from Port au Paix, reported entirely destroyed.

In the sixteenth century, Christmas festivities were carried to their height in England. Those who could afford it, had a dinner laid out with great pomp, which was served while bands discoursed music and masqueraders entertained the company.

The repartee of a mule is said to be unequalled, and the way to draw him out is by pulling out one little hair from the tip end of his stumpy tail.

The custom of giving presents at Christmas and New Year, as well as the egg presentations at Easter, is of very ancient origin, but better opportunities were never offered than this present season at I. Frederick's jewelry store. Cheaper than ever. dec13m

OWING to the recent stock panic, many poor children will miss the usual visit of Santa Claus; still this need not be so, for you can buy all sorts of nice presents, cheaper than ever, at I. Frederick's jewelry store. dec13m

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—Service at 11 o'clock A. M. and 6:30 P. M. Rev. A. Drhams pastor. Sunday school at 12 M.

JOTTINGS.

—Dr. Bergman has returned from his trip to Lovelocks.

—The average daily attendance at the Truckee public school is 180.

—The trout are as far as Wadsworth on their annual trip up the Truckee.

—L. L. Crockett, state treasurer elect, will move to Carson on Monday.

—This has been the finest year for the ice business ever known on the river.

—J. W. Madrell, of the Journal, has returned from a Christmas visit to Grass Valley.

—James Harl, the rancher king of the canyon, was in town to-day with apud galore.

—The weather is growing warmer. It is 12 degrees above zero at 7 o'clock this morning.

—The mountains retain nearly all the snow that fell upon them at the beginning of the week. They are white almost to the base.

—The jury in the case of W. H. Tredway vs Curtis & Boyd, have returned a verdict for plaintiff for $1 48. The amount sued for was $100.

—The Bodie Standard has enlarged. We are gratified at this evidence of prosperity in a paper which by its sense and enterprise does honor to Bodie.

—W. E. Price has filled his ice house at Ophir with 2500 tons out from his lake. He is now building a still larger ice house which he will fill this season.

—A heap of rubbish burning to-day bristly on Virginia street a few rods north of the bridge. A stop should be put to this careless practice, which is original in the present waterless condition of the town.

—The eight-page edition of the New Year GAZETTE will be the best paper ever issued in Reno. Its forty-eight columns will be filled with valuable information and entertaining original reading matter.

—A Plute buck with a wooden leg, the remaining foot bare and clothed in a linen duster may not be very comfortable to look at, but he can sit out doors all day with the thermometer at four degrees above zero and play poker.

—Rev. D. A. J. Menning has been engaged in establishing Hebrew religious schools in the different portions of California and Nevada. Schools have been established in Eureka, Reno, Carson and Virginia City in Nevada, and in Grass Valley and Marysville in California.

—"A THING of beauty is a joy forever." This poetical adage was never more truthfully illustrated than at I. Frederick's jewelry store. His new stock of Christmas presents are marvels of beauty, quality and cheapness.

RENO IN DANGER.

Her Water Mains Useless—No Protection Against Fire.

The GAZETTE once more desires to impress upon the people of Reno the great importance of guarding against fire. Should a fire start at this time in any central locality it would probably destroy the town. There is not a drop of water in the mains. The reservoir is as dry as a whistle, owing to the fact that the Orr ditch from which it must draw its supply, is empty and has been for a long time, on account of the repairs in progress at its head. The little ditch, the tricklings of which have oozed through the pipes which are supposed to supply the town, is frozen solid. People get the water necessary for domestic use from wells and holes in the ice of the larger ditches. Fortunately the cisterns are full, but they would be exhausted by even a small fire and simply useless in case of a big one. It behooves the people of Reno therefore to take all care to avert a disaster which would break the back of the town. Every household and every business place should have barrels filled and placed within convenient reach. A bucket at the start is better than a steam fire engine five minutes later. No rubbish should be burned upon the streets. Much gross carelessness is shown in this respect. A heap of rubbish was smouldering yesterday by the side of the railroad track on Commercial Row west of Sierra street. A high wind would have fanned it into a blaze and there would have been danger in its sparks and our wooden sidewalks and frame buildings. Every inhabitant should organize himself into an anti-fire watchman until Reno's remarkable water works do their duty, after their manner, again.

Be Pious.

Reflect upon your Christmas dinner and go to church to-morrow in a thankful frame of mind. Its probable that lots of as good men as yourself had to tighten their belts in the absence of turkey. The reflection, while painful, yet has its other side. Good things always taste better when we remember that you have a sort of monopoly of them, like the fine old gentleman who made a practice of dining in the bow window of his club, for the reason that it gave him an appetite to have the hungry beggars staring in at him. Of course a state of mind like that is one that should be reprobated by all Christians. But it is natural, notwithstanding—just as natural as to feel surprise that a paper of the size and merit of the WEEKLY GAZETTE can be sold for $2 50 per year.

About Joe Potter.

We dislike to spoil a nice sensational story, but the Joe Potter item which has gone the rounds, in a falsehood. It states that Joe participated in a stabbing affair in the Black Hills and had left for parts unknown. The gentleman in Truckee and announces that he can be found here any time. He has been in no stabbing scrape, and does not care to have the reputation of being a dangerous character.

SUICIDE IN TRUCKEE.

A Tale of True Love and a Strange Death.

[Truckee Republican, To-day.]
Rarer even than "Christian charity" is a case of true love, such as we to-day record. Sometimes since an old man came to Truckee and represented himself as Mons. Andre Massena, son of the first marshal of France under Napoleon. He was a destitute Mason and received assistance from the fraternity. In due time it transpired that Mons. Massena was having his life written up for publication by a native of East India, named E. W. Duke Thompson. No one ever saw the Duke, or if they did it was only for a moment. He was gentlemanly, retired and seemed devoted to his work. He wrote for the papers and one very excellent article was published in the Republican. He was young, tall and quite good looking, and was educated in five different languages. He claimed to be descended from a family of wealth and distinction.

NOW M. MESSINA HAD A WIFE.

She was far too young, far too beautiful not to be attractive, and it appears that she won the Duke's heart. Last week the Massena family left Truckee and the Duke accompanied them. Some one in the crowd, in packing up the things for removal, packed up a considerable quantity of the household goods of their landlady, Mrs. Short. A warrant was speedily sworn out, and officer Cross followed them. The stolen goods were found, together with all the Massena baggage in the care or possession of Duke Thompson. He says Massena told him to look out for the baggage, and he had no idea that any goods had been stolen. When he learned from the officer, however, that Mrs. Massena would probably be arrested for the theft, he at once returned with Mr. Cross to Truckee, and pleaded guilty to the larceny. John A. Gray prosecuted the case, and Duke Thompson was sentenced to forty days imprisonment. Officer Cross was to remove his prisoner to Nevada the next morning. During the night some one made the Duke believe that Mrs. Massena had been arrested. Shortly after midnight he began as long as ever he could, and repeating the process as rapidly as possible. He soon became weak, exhausted and almost unconscious. Dr. Curless was called and after a careful examination was unable to discover that anything ailed the man, except that he was continually trying to hold his breath as long as possible. Early in the morning the breath left Duke Thompson forever. In some manner he had committed suicide as is clearly intimated by the following letter. Drs. Pedlar and Curless made a thorough examination of the stomach of the dead man, and find not the slightest trace of poison. All the internal organs of the body appeared in a healthy condition. The verdict of the coroner's jury, was, that Duke Johnson had committed suicide, but by what means they were unable to determine. The contents of the stomach have been preserved and will be sent below to be analyzed. If Duke Thompson took some subtle East Indian poison, the chemist can probably discover its presence. If he really produced death by determinedly holding his breath, it is the first case of the kind ever known. All medical works deny that suicide can be committed by a voluntary suspension of respiration. The following letter was found in his pocket in the jail. It was written with a lead pencil upon brown paper, in a clear bold handwriting. It was intended for Mrs. Massena and tells the whole story of the man's devotion.

HOLDING HIS BREATH

THE LAST LETTER.

"Christiana, beloved one, my pride and only love, words are too poor to express to you the sentiment and feelings of my heart. To say you from prison I have acknowledged stealing those goods given me to take to Rocklin by that old wretch. I could bear anything for your sake, my dear girl. On my own confession I have been convicted and sentenced to be imprisoned for forty days, but all my efforts to save you from being imprisoned are fruitless, and you are to be arrested. Oh, my darling, I cannot live to see you sent to jail, this is too much and will kill me. You Eddie has drunk up the cup of bitterness and grief, and is broken-hearted. I have suffered most keenly to see you ill treated by that old shrieve-up baboon who, I feel certain, put me into trouble and disgrace to get rid of me. You will never more hear the soft tones of the voice you loved to hear, and perhaps after a short time you will forget me. Dear one, don't mourn for me, I cannot live to see you sent to prison. Think of me, darling, and if you can, try to prevent my remains from being dissected or cut up. Leave that old brute as soon as you can, he will be severely punished. I cannot write more for my heart is nigh bursting with pain. After I'm gone, and should you be in Truckee, beware of Mr. Gray. Good-bye now, and forever you will never more see your Eddie. If I have grieved or distressed you in any way, please forgive me. Only yours, EDDIE.

HARD THINGS TO DO.—There are three things that no man can keep—a point on a pencil, a pointed joke and an appointment with a dentist. There are three things no woman can do—cross before a horse, hurry for a horse car and pass S. N. Davidson's jewelry window without calling and examining some of the fine holiday presents on exhibition, which he offers for sale cheaper than ever.

COMPETITION is said to be the life of trade. This may be so, but it opens a field to unscrupulous merchants to palm off spurious for the genuine article. This is not so at I. Frederick's jewelry store, for although his prices are lower than ever before, he will warrant everything sent out of his store as represented.

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes, hats and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. I do not boast when I say that I defy competition in prices in anything in my line. Besides this I have only one price. I have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at my establishment. My stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this State. Everything I have is new. No old, musty and out-of-date goods can be found on my shelves. I receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of my prices and examine my stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they drum into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. We stockkeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. I make a profit on everything I sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. One must make a profit to live. I particularly call attention to my full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods form one of my specialties. Remember the place. The White House, No. 19, Commercial Row. Orders from the country to L. ASHRAHAM, L. ASHRAHAM, L. ASHRAHAM, White House, Reno.

C. Jeff. Brookins,

General Variety Store, Reno, Nevada—Pianos, organs and all kinds of musical instruments sold on the installment plan at genuine Eastern prices. Brookins has just received an immense stock of Holiday Goods, the finest and largest assortment that was ever brought to Reno. China, tin, and Britannia sets of dishes, vases, Toilet, wine and smoking sets, Mustache Cups, Mugs and Flower pots. The finest and lowest priced Albums that have ever been heard of. Games of Authors. Across the Continent, etc. wall pockets and brackets. This stock will be sold very cheap. Bird Cages and Hooks, Toy Pianos, Jumping Jacks, Magic Lanterns, Jack in Box, Rocking Horses, Wagons, Carts, Wheelbarrows, toy perambulators, bed-room sets, tables, sideboards and bureaus, tumbling harlequins, watches, building and A B C blocks, silver bell and rubber rattles. A magnificent and very large stock of dolls, wax, woodcut, and China, Papiermache, French kid with flexible joints, walking and talking dolls. Jeff invites special attention to these dolls, as he is determined to sell them as cheap as they can be bought. On account of Brookins' store being too small to exhibit his wonderful stock, he has leased the Reno Furniture Store, where he invites everybody to call and see his goods, and if they can go through his rooms without buying something to make the hearts of the little ones glad, they can beat me.

A CONUNDRUM.—"You are a mule, sir," said an irate man to his son. "And you are my father, sir," was the quick reply, "and it is no use to deny the relationship." The old gentleman attempted to assume a severe look, but a faint smile stole over his face, and to reward the wit of his son, went to S. N. Davidson's Jewelry Store and selected one of the finest Watches and Chains for him as a Christmas present. They both were made happy, as the son returned the compliment again.
